

Rural Communications

For Immediate Release

Contact:

L. J. Caruso

269-273-4148

Rural Communications

Caruso-l@bcinetworks.net

St. Joe County 01/03/2005

Rural Communications, to offer Free INTERNET “101” awareness sessions for St. Joe County Communities.

Beginning in January, Rural Communications will travel to deliver Free Internet “101” Awareness Sessions to the St. Joe communities of Three Rivers, Schoolcraft, White Pigeon, Sturgis, and Centreville.

As part of Rural Communications mission; Keeping your community in touch with the world, this Internet “101” presentation will offer proper Internet Usage Information and Key Email applications.

This Free two hour program is designed to assist newly purchased computer owners and existing users, to learn proper etiquette methods for Internet/Email usage, SPAM reduction, and VIRUS protection.

To reserve passes to attend the two hour Internet “101” sessions scheduled for the week of January 24th-31th, 2005.

Please contact Rural Communications 269-273-4148

Schedule: January 24- Three Rivers
January 25- White Pigeon
January 26- Sturgis
January 27- Centreville
January 31- Schoolcraft

About Rural Communications, Inc.

Rural Communications Inc. is an Integrated Communications Provider offering residential and business customers the most advanced communications products and services available, including local voice and data, domestic and international long distance and Internet services. A privately held company, Rural's headquarters are located at 56 North Main Street in Three Rivers, MI. Additional information about Rural is available at <http://www.Ruralcommunications.net>

